Sheriff Alerts Officers To Oneida Disturbance

Sheriff Norbert Froelich today alerted county law enforcement officers against the return of the Chicago "Screaming Eagles" motorcycle riders who created a disturbance at an Oneida church picnic last weekend.

The Eagles threatened to return "100 strong" this week and Oneida people appealed to Froelich for help at a meeting Monday at Oneida.

"We were given a black eye by the bad publicity when we were actually the victims of the Eagles raising havoc at our church picnic," Mrs. Joycelyn Ninham, Oneida tribal treasurer, said.

"There may have been some incidents early Sunday morning, I didn't see them, but I heard of them, but what was not told was the events leading up to that disturbance.

Camped Overnight.

"These Screaming Eagles came here from Chicago. There were 25 to 30 motorcycles. One of the group is married to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malphais Smith, who live at a former cheese factory half way between Oneida and De Pere.

They camped there for the night in tents and cars."

She said Oneida residents were awakened early Saturday by motorcycles racing up and down the highway and they were "bothered" by the Eagles all day Saturday at the picnic.

"They rode their motorcycles throughout the area scaring the children and women half to death," Mrs. Ninham said.

"They even took over the kiddie rides. They paid for everything and were buying beer like crazy. One of them even gave the kiddie ride man $20 and said, 'give all the kids a ride.' But as the day wore on they got drunker and were profane and talking abusively.

"I called the sheriff's office and asked for a patrol. I told the officer they were raising havoc at the picnic. I also called them back and told the officer I didn't want the patrol cars to stop, just patrol the area."

Landry Dispatched Officer

Lt. Don Landry, who was in charge Saturday, said he received the report and dispatched squad cars to the area.

"We can't make arrests when people are not doing a thing illegal," Landry said. "There were some motorcycles on the road, but they have a right to that. No complaints were signed."

Oneida residents, however, said that as soon as the squad cars arrived, the motorcyclists dispersed and then came back when the police were gone.

"They were not all here at one time," Mrs. Loretto Ellis, Oneida tribal secretary said, "but they kept coming and going all day. They were foul mouthed. They kept spraying beer at each other and they antagonized our people all day long."

"They made insulting remarks, and one of them even got sick on the rides. The mothers were afraid for the children and many people stayed away from the picnic on Sunday. We lost about $1,000 on the picnic. We made $500, but we should have made $1,500 to $2,000 which we normally do."

Artley Skenadore, former Brown County sheriff, said the church is Holy Apostle Church, an Episcopal mission, and the annual picnic raises funds for church operation.

Fight at Tavern

The incidents that caused the main disturbance took place early Sunday morning at Schuyler's tavern when Donald Doxtator of Oneida was injured in a beer bottle throwing incident. He was treated and released at St. Mary's Hospital for cuts and a fractured hand.

Doxtator, Oneida residents said, had nothing to do with the Screaming Eagles. He walked to the tavern, according to reports of residents, and was struck by a flying object.

A call was made to the sheriff's department about the disturbance and squad cars were dispatched to the area.

Sgt. Royce S. Coppens in his report to Froelich said:

"We were dispatched to a disturbance at Schuyler's tavern at 12:45 a.m. to check a disturbance. We were told that a group of motorcycle riders from Chicago were throwing beer bottles. As we arrived the motorcycles were leaving.

"Officers reported trouble in the parking lot of the White Eagle tavern and I saw what appeared to be two men wrestling on the ground. I took the top man off and found the one on the bottom was an Indian woman.

Reports Differ

"At about this time the Indians, which ones unknown, had started one of the bikes afire. It was put out with an extinguisher from a squad car (The Oneidas said the fire was caused when the motorcycle spun on the highway).

"We then attempted to calm the people down. We cleared all but one of the bike riders, the last one was struck across the throat by a woman as he rode by, and knocked out in the process. We revived him and since he was unable to ride his bike, got one of the other men of the group to start the bike. This all took about 10 minutes. In the meantime the Indian group of approximately 150 became more unruly.

Mrs. Ninham said that early Saturday evening the Eagles were swinging chains from their hands and inviting fights.

"Several of the Indian people had joined us in trying to stop the balance from kicking and injuring the bike riders. We finally got the last bike out of there and the Indians started to chant 'we beat the white guys from Chicago, now let's beat up the white cop.'

Several began throwing gravel at the squad cars. We attempted to find out who did it, but it was impossible in a group that size.

"They began throwing rocks and pieces of concrete blocks which they had broken up. I saw a woman throw some gravel that did no damage, but at this time arresting a woman would have made the situation much worse. I then ordered the men to leave the scene, as this seemed the only way the Indian group would calm down."

Never Refused Call

Froelich said his department "was not aware of the situation at the picnic Saturday."

"We have never refused a call to Oneida and I must say we have never had trouble there in many years," Froelich said.

"I am sure that had we been informed completely of what was taking place we would have had more patrolling. Apparently there was a lack of communication on the picnic incidents. We will alert all law enforcement officers of this situation and we'll be prepared for any return this weekend."

92-255 will continue to be the over-all control file for the entire state which will be utilized whenever the Bureau directs that a report be submitted in this matter. This file is assigned to SA DANIEL E. BRANDT. The last time that the Bureau requested a report on crime conditions was in July, 1967.

The following type matters should be placed in the afore-listed area files whenever such information is developed by the Agent to whom assigned or by any Agent developing such type information from contacts with sources, law enforcement, or informants:

- 1) General crime statistics
- 2) Criminal organizations, gangs, etc.
- 3) Major operating rackets, such as gambling, (bookmaking, cards and dice, lotteries and narcotics), prostitution, and coin operated amusement machine businesses
- 4) Graft and corruption
- 5) Groups organized to combat the criminal element
- 6) Possible criminal influence in Labor Organizations
- 7) Persons prominent in organized crime

MI 92-255

All Agents developing such information through contacts with informants should direct a copy of the FD-209 into the respective area file. Data learned through contacts with sources and law enforcement should be directed to the respective files by office memorandum.

Agents to whom these cases are assigned should keep the files posted by periodic submission of a memorandum reflecting negative or positive data on the above categories.

All Agents are reminded that this office maintains files on the Criminal Intelligence Program (92-145) and Top Echelon Criminal Informant Program [redacted] which are control files under which periodic submissions are made. Information copies of FD-209s relating to these matters should be directed to the Coordinator, SA DANIEL E. BRANDT (not directed to the control files). SA BRANDT will incorporate the data in weekly submissions and determine the necessity of filing or destruction of the information copy.

Crime increases in city, county

The Oshkosh Police Department has recorded an 84.5 per cent increase in property crimes, from 71 to 131, in the first quarter of this year as compared with the first quarter of 1967.

Auto thefts were up 267 per cent, grand larcenies (over $50) increased 57.6 per cent, and burglaries rose 58.6 per cent.

No homicides, forcible rapes, assaults with deadly weapons or armed robberies were reported in either quarter, however.

The breakdown of figures for the first three months is as follows:

Burglaries, 29 in 1967 and 46 in 1968; grand larcenies, 33 in 1967 and 46 in 1968; auto thefts, 9 in 1967 and 33 in 1968.

According to the Winnebago County Sheriff's Department figures for the county excluding the cities of Oshkosh, Neenah and Menasha show burglaries increased 86.3 per cent and larcenies (both petty and grand) went up 81.9 per cent for the same period.

There were no homicides, forcible rapes, or assaults with deadly weapons in either quarter, the sheriff's department said. There was one armed robbery in February of this year.

Here is the breakdown of the quarterly figures recorded by the sheriff's department:

Burglaries, 22 in 1967 and 41 in 1968; petty and grand larcenies, 61 in 1967 and 111 in 1968.

According to the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports issued Monday, property crimes are on the increase across the nation.

Burglary was up an average of 15 per cent for the first quarter of this year compared with the same period of 1967. Auto thefts were up 17 per cent and larceny increased 19 per cent.

Interview of one [redacted] being set forth in Milwaukee file [redacted] concerns one [redacted]

She indicated he runs the [redacted] that she believes [redacted] has the money in the place.

[redacted] and [redacted] under the names of [redacted] and [redacted] claimed in interview that [redacted] has on a number of occasions tried her to accept dates for cash with [redacted] to get part of the cash. She allegedly refused but does not know whether [redacted] has accepted such propositions from [redacted] She noted however that she did not know [redacted] prior to coming to Wisconsin and was booked to Menasha by [redacted] [redacted] in early November, 1968.

With reference to [redacted] she stated that while [redacted] has had dice games in the Purple Onion in which he participated and she knows of football pools of the type maintained in taverns with a criss-cross of numbers she has never seen any parlay cards. This is noted in connection prior allegation instant file that Purple Onion allegedly connected with parlay card gambling.

FROM : SA JOHN D. O'CONNELL 92-736

SUBJECT: CRIME CONDITIONS IN A. LLETON AREA

[redacted] Oshkosh P.D. advised 5/23/69 that he has had no indication that there is any commercial gambling now in Oshkosh in form of Horse Booking or betting on athletic events but noted it is possible it exists in limited form. He noted in this connection that ALVIN A. REPP, 1703 Punhoqua died during the last year and stated that in view of this he feels it unlikely there is now any betting through personel at Repp's Bar 1202 Oshkosh St, Tel 235-9835.

FROM : SA JOHN D. O'CONNELL 92-736

SUBJECT: CRIME CONDITIONS IN APPLETON AREA

In connection with Milwaukee file 15-4749 captioned UNSUB- Cameras stolen in Hijacking, it is noted the allegation was made by an unnamed individual to [redacted] according to source, that a load of color TV sets were to be hijacked and brought to Menasha for changing of serial numbers and that this would be done in the same building as or behind a beauty shop and that the beauty shop operator was "in on it".

It appears this is likely unreliable information in one or more respects but C of Police LESTER CLARK has advised that one [redacted] He stated he has no connection with a beauty shop but that a [redacted] He noted the Theatre has gone out of business and that the area in and in the rear of the Theatre has been open and accessible and might be used for criminal purposes.

He stated that [redacted] and is believed to be a friend of [redacted] that he is also a friend of [redacted] He stated he believes [redacted] It is not in this connection that [redacted]

[redacted] then indicated he was getting stolen goods from various sources from Chicago.

Although [redacted] indicated [redacted] aka [redacted] was a reputable person whom he does not feel would be involved with [redacted] in any way, it is recalled she was interviewed by Agent several years ago in a matter believed possibly a fugitive matter and that the person involved was either [redacted]

FROM : SA JOHN D. O'CONNELL 92-736

SUBJECT: CRIME CONDITIONS IN APPLETON AREA
APPLETON RA.

On 9/24/69 [REDACTED] Oshkosh P.D. (NA) advised that nothing has come to his attention with the start of the football season to indicate parlay cards on football games are being circulated in Oshkosh but that he will be alert to any reports. He noted most activity of this sort has in the past centered around [REDACTED] and that IRS prosecutions and FBI investigation appear to have kept him out of business.
